WITH THE HEAT WAVE OF MID-AUGUST a thing of the past, and night-time temperatures dropping into the 30s, it's time to think about getting the wood ready for the coming winter. And that's just what Raymond Farr, of High Street, West Paris, was doing during a recent weekend.

Saunders pleads innocent to charge he killed wife

Local mason Al Saunders pleaded innocent last Thursday to a charge that he murdered his second wife, Joan Saunders, on Feb. 23, 1981. Mr. Saunders was arraigned in Rumford District Court by Judge John Batherson.

The charge against the defendant was formulated by Detective Hubert Carter, of the Maine State Police, who led the investigation leading to the discovery of the body of the former Mrs. Saunders buried under the cement basement floor of the home she and the defendant shared on Bird Hill. The area, off the Gore Road, is between Bethel, Locke Mills and Bryant Pond. But the house, and Mr. Saunders' present house next door, is in Bethel, according to the Bethel town clerk.

The body, with evidence of a gunshot wound in it, according to the autopsy report, was dug up last Tuesday by sheriff's deputies and state police. Mr. Saunders voluntarily surrendered to Lt. Bill Williams early last Wednesday and has been in the county jail since.

Mr. Saunders' attorney, Mitchell Flick, of Lewiston, asked the judge to grant bail until the probable cause hearing, scheduled for Oct. 8. Mr. Flick pointed out that Mr. Saunders did turn himself after he learned that police were looking for him, and he even rode to jail without handcuffs. "The officer [Lt. Williams] had enough faith in him that he put him in the front seat," Mr. Flick noted.

But, according to the request of As-

DET. CARTER'S STATEMENT

Maine State Police Detective Hubert Carter provided the following facts in the case of the alleged murder of Joan Saunders. Det. Carter swore to two affidavits, which are part of the file of the case.

According to Det. Carter, he interviewed Al Saunders in March of this year, following complaints from Mrs. Saunders' brother that the family thought it strange that they had had no word from the sister.

Det. Carter stated, "Mr. Saunders told me that after his wife left him in 1981, he received a couple of phone calls from her, the latest being around December 1985." The defendant also told the detective at that time that he had committed over the roof cellar in the house he had shared with Joan sometime after her disappearance because of flooding.

tant Attorney General Rae Ann French, Judge Batherson denied bail. In announcing his decision, Judge Batherson said he found probable cause that Mr. Saunders had indeed committed the offense of murder, therefore he wanted him to remain in jail until the next formal hearing. Since the grand jury is expected to meet just prior to the Oct. 8 probable cause hearing, it is possible, the judge said, that an indictment will be handed up by that jury, making the probable cause hearing unnecessary.

Public hearing set for largest housing development to date

Developers of the planned Mill Brook Estates will have the opportunity Sept. 9 to present to the public their concept for a 60-unit planned unit development off Bridge Street, Bethel.

Set in the former Douglass trailer park, the development—if approved—would be the largest housing development yet undertaken in Bethel. The developer is Marathon Steel Company, Inc.

The completed plans for the 4.5 million development were accepted last Wednesday by the Planning Board. The board expects to vote on a subdivision permit for the project at its Sept. 23 meeting.

At last Wednesday night's meeting, board members questioned the company's financial ability to construct the project. Bill Overton, the head of Marathon Steel Co., Inc., said five New England banks have expressed interest in helping with the project, but he has not yet collected the necessary formal statements to that effect. He said he would have written letters expressing "intent to commit" funds before the public hearing.

Board members had previously expressed concern over the developer's plan to add fill to the floodplain in order to build five of the planned 15 buildings in that area. (Each building will have four 2-bedroom units.) After project engineers explained that the filling would cause an increased level of flooding in the area of only .006-inch, board member Don Eddy said "If it's no more than that, I can live with it." The foundations of those buildings in the floodplain will be above the 100-year flood stage, and the well will be sealed against flood infiltration, the engineers said.

The developers hope to begin construction as soon as the project is approved and as soon as the selectmen grant a sewer tie-in permit. To date the select-

Testing of local pipeline begins

As part of the process of converting the oil pipeline through Bethel and neighboring towns from oil to gas, a New Hampshire company will begin testing the local section of the pipeline beginning next Monday. Testing should be completed by next Saturday.

Granite State Gas Transmission, Inc.—a wholly owned subsidiary of Northern Utilities, Inc., another New Hampshire company, will pressure-test the line, section by section, using inert nitrogen gas. The line has already been purged of oil using the same kind of gas, according to Northern Utilities spokesman Shelly Dunn. (Northern Utilities is owned by Bay State Gas Co. of Massachusetts.)

The project entails Granite State leasing 160 miles of 18" pipeline from Portland Pipe Line Corp. The pipelines—in Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont—will be converted with the addition of more valves and metering stations, and will carry natural gas from western Canada to Portland. From the Portland terminus, the gas will be distributed to customers in Maine. The oil pipeline has been idle for the past few years.

The gas pipeline is expected to carry up to 40 million cubic feet of natural gas per day, which is enough to heat about 100,000 homes daily, according to in-mail released by Northern Utilities, which, along with Bay State, will be the distribution entities in the project. The cost of getting the project going is estimated at $6.3 million, according to the company spokesperson. This includes transmission line purchases, pipeline conversion, regulatory, legal and financing costs, and contingencies. The largest item is the conversion cost. If the conversion goes smoothly, natural gas customers in southern and western Maine could begin using supplies of the Canadian gas as early as late-November, according to the spokesperson.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

The Todd family has grown since last Thursday when we met Penelope (Penny) Durellova at the Portland airport. Penny is from Skopje, Yugoslavia which is the largest city in Macedonia in the southern part of the country.

She is an exchange student who will be taking her senior year at Gould Academy and under the sponsorship of the American Academic Youth Exchange.

Penny will live with us for the next twelve months and looks forward to doing everything we do from lugging firewood to skiing. We are very happy to welcome her to the Bethel community.

To the Editor:

At the recently held Aug. 25, 1987, Special Town Meeting, the citizens of Bethel adopted a Site Plan Review Ordinance by an overwhelming vote. The Bethel Board of Selectmen and Town Manager wish to extend their appreciation and gratitude to the following members of the Land Use Ordinance Committee and Town planning Board who worked so hard and diligently over a seven month period to get an acceptable and workable ordinance to the voters which would allow the town to better regulate the development that is taking place in the Community.

Planning Board members: John Gray, chairman; Cathy Newell, vice-chairman; Donald Eddy, Dr. Leonard Shaw, Ginger Kelly, Karen Brown, and John Laban.

Also we wish to thank Bob Chabourne for the use of his word processor which made it easier and less time consuming to make corrections and changes to the ordinance and to Kathy Gallant for the many hours she spent before the word processor making the changes and meeting our deadlines.

In reflection, the process that went into the preparation of the site plan ordinance was successful and worked well because it was a grassroots effort which involved citizens from various backgrounds and areas of the community and allowed for on-going citizen input and comments.

To the Editor:

Back in the 20's young people frequently had role models. Doris Lord was ours. She went to school to my father in the old Grammar School, she taught my daughter in the 5th grade and she was my 8th grade teacher. And she was the same age as all of us. She always had time for the neighborhood kids to spend hours in her home. She was in entertainments, played for weddings and funerals and enjoyed games. We were allowed to go dances if "Lord's Orchestra" was playing. Her effervescent spirit inspired us to enjoy life, contribute our talents and be kind to our neighbors.

She had a long and good life, many friends and we're glad she wanted to come home to Bethel.

Mr. Saunders was brought into court through a back entrance, away from where TV cameras were waiting at the front of the Rumford Police Station. He was wearing a blue-grey suit, cowboy boots, a white shirt and blue tie, and handcuffs. The handcuffs were removed by Lt. Williams—his escort—as soon as they arrived inside the courtroom. He sat quietly at the defense table, his hands folded in his lap. His family sat in the spectators' seats behind him.

This week at the Moses Mason House

All members and friends of the Bethel Historical Society are reminded that the 22nd annual meeting will be held on Thursday, Sept. 3, in the meeting room of the Dr. Moses Mason House, beginning at 7:30 p.m. A 6:30 p.m. potluck supper will precede the meeting supervised by the Special Projects Committee headed by Persis Post. Anyone attending the supper should bring either a hot dish, a salad or a dessert. During the annual meeting a report on the year's activities will be heard and officers and trustees elected. The first presentation of the Marjorie M. Noll Volunteer Service Award will be made. Speaker of the evening will be Dr. Arthur M. Johnson, chairman, Maine Commission to Commemorate the Bicentennial of the United States Constitution, who will speak on "The Constitution and the Economy." Dr. Johnson holds B.A. and M.A. degrees from Harvard and a Ph.D. from Vanderbilt. He has taught at the U.S. Naval Academy and Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration before coming to the University of Maine in 1968. A former chairman of the Department of History, he retired as president of the University of Maine in 1986. Author of seven books, chiefly on business history and government-business relations, he has served in a variety of public service positions from Harbor Master of Castine to the chairmanship of the Environmental Subcommittee of the Commission of Maine's Future. Dr. Johnson currently lives in Camden. This meeting will officially commemorate the society's observance of the bicentennial of the U.S. Constitution which was presented to the American public on Sept. 17, 1787. Anyone interested in attending this meeting is cordially invited to do so. Latest contributors to the 1987 Endowment Campaign are Francis S. Harding.

To the Editor:

Despite the rainy day and lack of promised front page advertising from this paper and also an article for the Lewiston Sun, our first Quilting Show at the Middle Intervale Meeting House was (a) huge success with several hundred people braving the weather to see the display.

This was all made possible from the many and beautiful, old and new, quilted projects from this community's generous contributors. These were displayed over pews, clothes racks, quilt racks, piano, organ, cradle and bassinet and helped enhance the beauty of the restoration of the interior of this old meeting house.

We extend our deep appreciation to these quilters. But such an exhibit is always made more successful with an inspiring committee, Carole Crandall, who offered suggestions on identification tags, and two others from Bethel Quilters, Mabel Kennett and Virginia Keniston who helped so much on the display. Others who worked, too, in display and on duty Saturday were Becky Bailey, Shirley Clough and Geraldine Howe. Louise Annis, treasurer of the Meeting House Association was our greeter on Saturday. And last but not least to our two security people, Burnie and son, Ben Michaud who slept in the meeting house Friday night to protect our valuable contents, a big "thank you."

We are so grateful and satisfied with these efforts and thank you all again. You are "terrific." Now about next year's Quilt Show—oh yes, hopefully this will be an annual event.

With thankfulness,
Debbie Michaud, chairperson
Mary C. Keniston, asst. chairperson

Carter statement

Det. Carter stated that when police and medical officials dug up the remains last Tuesday in the basement of the Bird Hill Road home, they found a skeleton clothed in a bathrobe and wrapped in a blanket. The state's deputy chief medical examiner told the detective it appeared that the face of the deceased was struck with a blunt object. The state's chief medical examiner told the detective there was evidence of a shotgun wound to the front of the trunk of the body. The police sought, and obtained from the court, a search warrant to search for a 12-gauge shotgun among Mr. Saunders' property.

Positive identification of the skeletal remains was made through dental records, the detective stated. Mrs. Saunders was born July 9, 1946. She was 35 when she disappeared in 1981.

BTHL goes BOOM

Holders of the newly issued Bethel Savings Bank stock made 50 percent on their investment last week as the price of the stock—listed at BTHL on the over-the-counter market—jumped to $15 from its original price of $10.

Bethel Bancorp.—the parent company of the savings bank—issued $29,000 shares of stock the week before last to those depositors who had ordered stock during the conversion of the bank from a mutual savings bank to a publicly held corporation.

The offering of stock during the conversion was greatly oversubscribed. There were orders for 1,490,000 shares of stock, and federal regulatory authorities had authorized the issuance of only $29,000 shares. Because of the great demand for the shares, the successful buyers were limited to those people who had deposits at the bank as of Sept. 30, 1986.

While for most holders of BTHL shares the profits are merely paper profits, some investors are cashing in. One local resident said he sold the 115,000 shares he had purchased and earned a profit of $42,000. He regretted the fact that he sold early in the week instead of towards the end of the week, when the price reached $15 per share.

Canada gas is successful, there are plans for also importing gas from Nova Scotia, the company said.

Company officials stressed that gas being shipped through the area would be less of an environmental hazard than oil. The natural gas, being lighter than air, would rise and dissipate in the event of a gas leak, the officials said.

The pipeline project begins in Montreal, crosses the Canada-Vermont border west of Island Pond, crosses the New Hampshire border near Lancaster, and enters Maine at Gilead. It then passes through Bethel, North Waterford, Norway and South Paris on its way to Portland.

The plan to import the Canadian gas was approved by the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission last month.

In stock market offices, there are brokerage houses that deal in the stock. Regional securities houses that are actively promoting trading in the stock are: Gruntal Securities, Advent Securities, Moseley Securities and Tucker Anthony Securities, all of which have offices in Portland, and some of which have 800 phone numbers.

From the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce

The chamber welcomes new members Remington Hill Bed & Breakfast and Ed Francis, an independent supporter from Duxbury, Mass. Sure is great to be growing.

We have been wrapping up plans for our booth at the Eastern States Exposition from Sept. 16 to 27. We'll be selling the Maine Woodsman's Weatherstick as well as promoting the area. Executive Director Robin Zinchuk sent weathersticks to three leading weathermen in the Springfield, Mass./Hartford, Conn., area to help promotion of them as well as the "Today Show" Weatherman Willard Scott. Watch for it!

A video depicting life in this area, our forest products industry and skiing will be shown in the exhibit as well.

Robin will be attending the annual meeting of the Maine Association of Chamber of Commerce Executives this Thursday and Friday. It is held in Grand Lake Stream, at Len's Lodge. The chamber executives share information about what's happening in each of their areas and brainstorm new chamber programs.

A mailing has been sent out announcing the first Breakfast Issue meeting of the chamber. It'll be held Oct. 1, Thursday, at Martha's Restaurant. Seating is limited, so please register early. Charles Mercer, from the Finance Authority of Maine, will be guest speaker. His topic will be "How to obtain business capital." All are welcome.

A fundraising committee has been appointed with Mac MacMunn as the chairman. Any ideas, call him at 836-3375.

The chamber will be having a food sale at the Blue Mountain Arts & Crafts Festival, at Sunday River, on Oct. 10 and 11.

We are also planning to attend the men have only agreed to the tie-in in concept. The project will have a drilled well for water but will depend on the town sewer system.

The developers plan to develop the subdivision in phases: phase one will be five buildings on the third of the property closest to Bridge Street.

The board was impressed by the good-neighborliness exhibited by the developers. At a previous meeting, the ranger at the adjacent U.S. Forest Service office complained that having a large residential development next door to his operation would present problems. He suggested a fence be put up between the two neighboring properties.

Marathon's project manager, Jim Putnam, reported to the board that he had spoken with the ranger and the two had agreed to share expenses for constructing such a fence.

Mr. Overton presented the board with a check for $3,100, being $100 for the subdivision permit application plus $50 per planned unit.

In other business, the Planning Board approved a subdivision plan for eight lots in West Bethel, adjacent to the Newton & Tobbetts mill. The project is called Newton Highlands.

The board agreed to send a letter of thanks to Mary Morgan for her work as secretary of the board. The new secretary is Ginny Walker.

Boston Ski Show in November, with eight other Maine exhibitors. This is our primary market for this area—a great opportunity. The Board of Directors meeting will be held next Thursday, Sept. 10, at 7:30 a.m., at the Casco Bank. All are welcome.

THE GILEAD WOMEN'S CLUB had a sale last Saturday, which attracted a lot of local ladies. Billed as a yard sale, the club wisely decided to hold the sale indoors, in the town hall. Predictably, it rained on the day of the sale—which was a godsend, as the area had received no rain in weeks. Enjoying themselves at the indoor yard sale were, left to right, Mary Cole, Kelly Cole and Georgie MacArthur. (Photo by Jeanne Boelsma)

The girls were here to make preparations with the rest of the family for our most enjoyable 40th anniversary celebration which was held on Saturday afternoon. There were many relatives and friends who attended. The organ music was provided by Gus Spurr and the Parisians surprised us by parading there to the tune of "When the Saints Come Marching In." ably led by the conductor dressed in a buffalo coat wielding an umbrella!!!! They entertained us with their usual good tapping music with Esther Nava of Norway, the soloist. Needless to say, the afternoon was a memorable one.

The Eleanor B. Forbes Goodwill Group will hold a dinner meeting at the home of Olga Gellatly on Sept. 8 with hostess. Pokeno will be played after the meeting, so all are reminded to bring a wrapped surprise.

THANK YOU

Once again, a big sincere "thank you" to all of you who have sent flowers, and loads of cards, included me in your prayers, brought in food, run errands, phoned and visited. The calls and visits have really helped to pass the time!

One of these days, I'll stop this foolishness, and "we'll get the show on the road."

Thanks for caring. Sally Bodwell

Which reasons do YOU have for a visit to The Bethel Inn

High Street

By VIVA WHITMAN

A little cloudy this morning as I sit down to write but don't mind it if we can just get some much needed rain to help the gardens that are left. I am so sorry for those who lost their gardens to frost the past few days. It is so early that it makes it extremely hard to lose them at this point and time. Just when they are producing vegetables to can or freeze and it makes it a great loss for many. Somehow, we were spared and we hope we continue to be as the garden is doing so well, just needs a good thorough drink of water to help the vegetables grow more before we harvest them. We have been surprised to have as much as we have where it has been so dry but have had bumper crops in some things. We are most thankful for this, with the price of groceries climbing the way they have and the Social Security staying so low, all the stuff we raise sure helps.

Last Thursday was certainly a busy day for us here. We had some large zucchini that needed picking in order for more to grow so Russell went out and picked them. We chopped zucchini for making some of my zucchini, carrot bread, only we use it as cake as it tastes so good and is sweet. Then we sliced some and blanched it to have for zucchini casseroles which we like so well. After that, Russell started thinning the carrots as they were beginning to go bad or the tops were. They couldn't get any air through with so much for tops clinging together. It is a job to take care of carrots as it is everything else. Wash them, peel them, slice them and blanch them and put them in containers for the freezer. I was done in by the time we were through but all will taste good next winter when the snow blows and the wind howls.

We had a little time to rest and I took advantage of that as we had been asked to go to West Paris Grange to help out. Russell to be an officer and to help with the program with a skit.

Friday was a good day and I got busy getting things done and my suitcase packed to go to Wynona's for the weekend. She took me to South Portland to get some parts for my sewing machine and we had lunch at Burger King as soon as Michael was free for lunch. Also had to go to a video place on Forest Avenue for her last year's graduation tape to have to show on Saturday at the Auburn Mall where two or three schools were putting on a fair or something like it. They were showing what adult education could do for people and taking registrations. Wynona was quite pleased with the results for Auburn as she said the registrations this year have been slow so far. Hope they pick up and all goes well for them. It was an all day affair, Michael and Wynona didn't get home till most eleven at night. They had to stay and take down the tables etc, and take them to the school to leave them before coming home. Of course, Grandma stayed with the girls and in the forenoon of Saturday, we had gone to North Bridgton for Karinn to have a back treatment and I got the doctor to help me some too. Another spell of fibrositis had hit from over doing on Thursday and needed help badly.

Came home on Sunday morning between Nonie washing and doing other things. I expect she had wash ready to dry when she got home and some to take from the dryer. She is one busy gal with all she has to do. I rested some during the afternoon and we were surprised with a visit from our niece, Elyse Fisher of Lisbon Falls after supper. Bradley and Andrew were with her. They had come from a family gathering at her brother's, Gilbert Haines, of West Bethel. It is nice the family gets together once in a while. Wish they would come to call but never do. Elyse is the only one we see very often and not too often at that. If she is in the area, she calls in through and we appreciate it very much as we do like to keep in touch with all the family we can. Peggy had visitors Sunday evening also. Her daughter Myrna and Bernard

White of Auburn came and had supper with her and visited. They called in here for a few minutes before going home.

Monday I went to North Bridgton to see Dr. Shedd as Dr. Jealous was to be gone. Russell had stopped at the Chiropractors in Norway but wasn't ready when we got back to town, so Peggy went shopping at Newberry's and I sat in the car. It is entertaining to sit and watch folks go by and see the different ways they walk or dress or whatever.

Oh, yes, forgot to say that when I got home on Sunday, I found Russell and Peggy doing carrots again so helped and put up some more packages for the freezer. Got about 34 packages put up so far just from thinning them.

I kind of took it easy Tuesday as my ribs didn't stay in place nor my lower back either. However, decided it wouldn't do any more harm to do some work after supper so helped Russell pull the bean plants out front and pick off the beans. Wendall and Viola have been having some of the beans to eat and they come to pick but we thought we would help. Viola was doing corn so Wendall came alone. We also helped him pick the beans up back and he took some carrots for a meal and some cukes. I tried to do a little knitting toward Christmas which will be here before I am ready for it.

Russell got busy on Wednesday morning and made some salad for himself and I got the things ready to make zucchini, carrot cake. Made a good big batch so have some in the freezer for future use if anyone comes to call.

We decided we better do our corn as it was getting pretty ripe so Russell went up and picked one row and brought it down. I got it on to cook and got lunch and then decided we better do the other row so Russell picked that and we put that up also. It's hard to tell what we will be doing next. I did a little knitting last evening and had a surprise call from Lawrence's daughter, Polly and friend. She hadn't been here for some time so was glad to see her and to meet her friend. Hope they come again.

I wanted to be sure and tell folks who come to West Paris to dance that the dance in September will be on the second Saturday of the month instead of the first. This is because of installation of officers for the grange which is to be in Rumford that night. So bear in mind that the dance will be held on the second Saturday of the month and come and have a good time as usual. This is as far as anyone knows at this time. The planist that they have has been laid up with a bum leg so hasn't been able to be around lately but hopefully by that time, she will be back on her feet.

Pray for rain and have a grand and glorious week. We need the rain for many different reasons so if all start praying,

North Paris

By EVELINE B. VATCHER

It has been a lovely week and a sudden change in the weather. No fans, no air conditioners. Jack Frost slipped in one night and nipped a few vines and the next night, he walked in and finished it. We have beautiful tomatoes this year some different than the hard green ones last year.

Callers at Lawrences were; Mr. and Mrs. McKeen, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Abbott, Mr. and Mrs. Odell Heath, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Card, Arnold Coffin, Richard Felt, and J. Vatcher.

The dance at West Paris Grange hall will be held Sept. 5 at 8 p.m. Many prizes and refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Vatcher went to York Beach, Monday, and Evelyn forgot her bikini. Joe picked eight quarts of cranberries and left a lot for someone else.

Fred and Ed Westerstrand and Catherine Bitto, New Durham, N.H., visited the Vatchers Wednesday.

Mrs. Sandee Spencer and three children spent several days at their former home in Tyngsboro, Mass., to gather up the loose ends of moving.

perhaps we will get some.

Alternative Energy Experts: We need Maine Yankee's electricity

"I say let's push harder for all the alternatives — like wood, cogeneration and solar — and increase conservation. But even pushing these to the hilt can't begin to replace Maine Yankee's electricity."

Richard C. Hill

University of Maine Professor Richard C. Hill, researcher, publisher of the New England solar energy atlas, and one of our state's leading alternative energy experts; Orono resident.

"Even if we could dam up all of our remaining rivers and streams and build hydro plants all over the state, we wouldn't get nearly enough energy to replace Maine Yankee. We can't afford to close this vitally needed plant."

Dr. R. Stevens Kleinschmidt

Dr. R. Stevens Kleinschmidt, hydro-electric engineer and founder of the largest engineering firm specializing in hydroelectric power in Maine and New England; Pittsfield resident.

Maine Yankee is our state's largest source of electricity.

Maine Yankee produces more electricity than all the other power plants from all the utilities in Maine — combined. The plant provides Maine with enough electricity for over 200,000 homes and 50 of our largest employers.

To replace Maine Yankee's electricity would be very difficult and very expensive.

Foreign oil would be Maine Yankee's major replacement.

Even if we increase our use of conservation, hydro, solar, and wood burning — in the years ahead, the major replacement for Maine Yankee would be foreign oil.

Maine is already one of the most oil dependent states in the nation. Each year we burn more than 4,000,000 barrels of oil to produce electricity in our state. It would be foolish to become even more dependent on this unreliable energy source.

And foreign oil is very expensive — costing much more than Maine Yankee's inexpensive electricity.

Mainers are uniting to keep Maine Yankee's electricity.

More than 20,000 Maine citizens have already joined us. We're a committee of people from all walks of life and from all around the state.

We're committed to providing voters with all the facts about the Maine Yankee referendum.

We invite you to join us today. If you're still undecided, we'll be happy to send you more information.

We're confident that when Mainers study the issues, common sense will prevail. We'll vote YES to Keep Maine Yankee's Electricity Working for Maine.

Newry selectmen prepare warrant for Sept. 21 special town meeting

The Newry selectmen at their meeting this week, prepared valuation returns for the State Bureau of Taxation and also the final papers for the flood damage claim. In other business, the selectmen prepared articles for the warrant for the Sept. 21 special town meeting. Included will be articles to see if the town will accept the comprehensive plan; to see if the town will vote to purchase a Ford F8000 truck with body, plow, wing and sander to replace the present 1976 International 1700. Money in the highway equipment account totals $62,835, which will cover the cost of replacing the truck. Another article to be voted on is to see if the town will accept a planning board ordinance. It was voted to place a sign on the front of the town office re-naming it the Raymond C. Foster Municipal Building. It is expected that bids for fuel oil for the municipal building will be opened at next week's meeting.

Copies of the Town of Newry Comprehensive Plan are now available at the town office for study prior to the public hearing on Sept. 9 at 7 p.m. at the town office. The office is open Tuesdays from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Thursdays from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Much credit is due the planning board and the planning committee for their work in preparing the plan, especially Veronica Smith and Ann Friedlander.

The plan has been dedicated to long time selectman of Newry, Roger Hanscom.

Tax bills were mailed out Aug. 20 and some taxes have been paid. Taxes were computed at the rate of .0073 on an assessed valuation of $48,522,203 with a 100 percent assessment ratio. An additional $3,690,969 in valuation was lost because of Tree Growth. Without Tree Growth the tax rate would have been .0068. The total tax commitment was $54,212.86. Town appropriations were $164,039.44; S&D #44, $195,920; county tax, $15,330; overlay, $16,651.89; for a total of $391,941.33. Other revenue of $37,728.67 left $354,212.66 to be raised by taxation. Total resident real estate valuation is $8,751,234; non resident, $36,380,094, for a total of $45,131,328. Resident personal property was valued at 3,299,875; non resident $91,000, for a total personal property valuation of $3,390,875, making a total real and personal property valuation of $48,522,203. Tax dollars are broken down as follows: education 50 percent; highways, 17.9 percent; officer's salaries, miscellaneous expense and overlay 5.1 percent; county tax, 3.9 percent, fire protection, including fire

NEW LAKES ASSOCIATION TO MEET SEPT. 5

The newly formed Community Lakes Association of Woodstock-Greenwood will meet at 10 a.m. Saturday, Sept. 5, at the new Woodstock School, Rumford Avenue, Bryant Pond. At a well-attended open meeting held on July 11, it was unanimously voted to meet on Sept. 5 for the purpose of: accepting by-laws to be prepared by a Steering Committee appointed July 11; to nominate and elect a slate of officers; to establish Standing Committees to promote interest in the association and to investigate matters of common interest including water monitoring, erosion control, seasonal water safety measures (possibly to include the feasibility of posting boat speed limits in narrow, shallow areas of the ponds); and to discuss any other business presented by concerned residents and property owners.

Poachers reimburse state

Two men convicted for illegal possession of a deer in closed season have been ordered to reimburse the state for the loss of the deer, in addition to fines and jail sentences.

Bridgton District Court Judge John Beliveau ordered Asa Cressey and Donald Cressey, both of Porter, to pay $250 each to the Department of Inland Fisheries and Wildlife as reimbursement.

In addition, each was fined $500, bringing their total costs to $750.

The judge also sentenced the two men to serve three days in jail for the initial offense. And since the deer was a female bearing an unborn fawn, the two were sentenced to serve an additional day in jail.

They were apprehended at Porter on April 11 by Game Warden Ralph Sarty. A third man, Dale Cressey of Porter, was also apprehended. He pleaded guilty, paid $500 and served three days in jail.

department fund and ambulance, 8.2 percent; solid waste disposal, 5 percent; tax maps and town lines, .25 percent; Workmen's Comp., .13 percent; general assistance, .38 percent; municipal building, 2.6 percent; Recreation, .13 percent; other, 6.41 percent.

This is your Chamber of Commerce

Each week, this column will spotlight a different member of the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce. The purpose is to give some understanding about the various fields of endeavor of the Chamber members.

Bethel Furniture Stock is a family owned business which was established in 1957 by Roger Favreau. Incorporated in 1966 as Bethel Furniture Stock, it has now been passed down to the second generation. Leon Favreau serves as president and shares ownership with brothers David and Donald and his sister Michelle Roy.

Bethel Furniture Stock makes wood parts for furniture and serves a nationwide market of furniture companies. The company remains at its original location on Route 2 in Bethel but has grown significantly during the last 30 years. It presently employs nearly 50 people, 10 of whom are part time. The management team includes Tim McIntyre, plant manager; Raymond Morgan, rough mill foreman; Lyndon Grover, saw mill foreman; and Robert Hinkley, yard manager.

Mr. Favreau reports that the company has recently started an innovative wood bending system for bow back chairs. A method developed Bethel Furniture Stock, it employs a radio frequency which is used somewhat in Europe but not elsewhere in the United States. This system produces a significantly better quality product. During the last several years, the company has added a new saw mill, dry kiln, boiler, and is presently adding a new dimension building, all of which has given the operation more room and made it more efficient.

When asked about the future of his business, Mr. Favreau is optimistic that the company will continue to grow, particularly with the new wood bending operation, which should result in an increase of employment opportunities. However, the optimism is somewhat guarded as any growth is dependent upon demand and the availability of raw materials in our areas. Mr. Favreau indicated that saw logs are difficult to come by and that overly restrictive preservation laws are a very real concern. He has actively sought to maintain a balance between the need for preservation of public lands/forests with the needs of local industry.

LEON FAVREAU, owner of Bethel Furniture Stock, in West Bethel, displays one of the new curved chairbacks his company is now manufacturing.

Greenwood City

By COLISTA MORGAN

As many times as I have opened the farm field gate there is still a sense of coming home. The familiar scenes framed through the gate are in a way constant, yet ever changing. The gate creaks as I walk it open and unconsciously I look around to note the progress of the season. Always there is the vast stretch of sky, the notched curve of the fields, the mountains, the maples and the sentinel white pines.

This land is a place of all seasons for in winter there is the promise of spring and in spring the forethought of summer. Perhaps the seasons can be thought of in this way. The winter snow becomes white clouds of summer; the spruce green can become the head of a drake mallard; the graying of winter skies, like the rocks and lichens. The certainties of tomorrow lie in our knowledge of all our yesterday, closely woven and held in simplicity of trees and sky and flower and rock.

There are several ways to view the land. Although I have never flown over it I picture it this way. The whole topography is available at a glance. Our pond must look like a scrap of shiny metal in the midst of soft folds of cloth. The pond is the eye of the land. I think of the ordinary rooted shore line plants the cat-tails, rushes and trees, equivalent to the giant redwoods, to the tiny animals and insects.

On Thursday, Ann and I took a real hike up hill most of the way, our destination, the so-called Buck's camp. It had been several years since we had been there. What a change! The beautiful fire place and chimney, rising above some of the trees and bushes was the only part left of a once extraordinary camp. This did not surprise us because we were looking for just that to identify the place. To some who might come upon it standing there by itself in a wilderness; it would be an awesome and intriguing question. This fireplace and chimney surely were built strong and eye-catching for it has stood for over 70 years. I remember it when I first came here in 1926. I also recall the owners and the mason who built it. So unique and attractive it was, with its running water over the ledges. Outside with benches on which to sit beneath the edge of their ledge the people enjoyed their showers. Now claimed by the wilderness forever.

We stopped by the old old cemetery; now grown with trees and three stones standing. A pity! The most readable was for Betsy, wife of Calvin Cole.

The Garland place. We searched for and found only the cellar wall.

It was a rough hike in many ways for some of the road was bushed in. The steepness of the ridges tested our leg muscles and gave us the different aspects of the land.

In the two and one half hours that we were gone the most beautiful places were the fireplace nestled beneath the trees, a monument of memory of many people, and the farm fields, wide view, a reality of today.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Curtis and Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Cogswell of Freeport have returned home from their trip to Ohio.

Carl Curtis has returned from his reunion in Kansas.

Fay and Ann Holt and I visit the home of David, Sally and Mary Holt on Watch Lake where we enjoyed swimming

Notes from the Woodstock Historical Society

Here is a comment on the composer Johann Sebastian Bach (1685-1750)—

"Though he himself achieved a very considerable reputation in central Germany, both as a brilliant organist and composer, he never travelled far; he was kept tied to posts at provincial courts and churches, where he created a vast output to meet the practical needs of the moment."

on that hot day.

Mr. and Mrs. John Betts left on Aug. 17, to fly to Denver, Colo., for a reunion with John's shipmates with whom he served in World War II.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Pulsifer, Mr. and Mrs. Leonas Holt and I attended the 40th wedding anniversary for Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Inman on Saturday, Aug. 22. Leonas Holt turned back time on Friday when his baler broke and he had part of a field of hay to get to finish. He and Larry Durgin, had to finish by pitching it on loose and hauling it to the barn. I well remember when all the hay was at that farm was done in that way.

THE STATE COMMISSIONER OF AGRICULTURE, Bernard Shaw, center, accepted a copy of the just-released Agriculture Viability Report on agriculture in the tri-county area of Oxford, Franklin and Androscoggin counties. Roger Smedberg, of Crystal Spring Farm, in Oxford, made the presentation at his farm, which District Conservationist Mark Hews looked on. Mr. Smedberg is chairman of the Androscoggin/Sandy River Valleys Agriculture Viability Project. According to the report, agriculture is alive and well in the tri-county area. The fact that the local economy is robust means there are ready markets locally for what farmers produce. However, the healthy economy also means it is difficult to find farm labor, particularly at harvest time, according to the report. Within the tri-county area, more acreage and more farmers are producing milk than any other product. In Oxford County there are 114 dairy farms, with 2,963 cows.

Thank you, Lord — After being accosted by thieves and robbed, Bible scholar Matthew Henry wrote in his diary: "Let me be thankful first because I was never robbed before; second, although they took my purse, they did not take my life; third, because, although they took my all, it was not much; and fourth, because it was I who was robbed, not I who robbed."

By ARLINE BERNIER

The mail will be delivered 45 minutes later beginning the last Saturday in August.

Vi Bernier, Arthur and his friend, Scott, are resident in the Bernier home. Ray and friend will join them for his week's vacation. The group will return to Woburn in time for school for the youngsters.

Tex Fogwill has employment in North Conway.

Louis and Lorraine Begin are at their camp for a few days.

Joseph Bergeron has a recurring throat disorder and was examined by a specialist in Lewiston. He scheduled to have a tonsilectomy during the first week of September.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Keene, Kirsten and Mark, returned home to Southport, Conn., after spending several days with the Clarks. They traveled the area much of the time, including company roads and were hoping to see bear and moose but were not lucky enough—within the hour after they left, the Clarks went to Errol and were able to take pictures of two roadside moose in the Cambridge bog.

Roland and I went to Highmoor Experimental Farm Field Day in Monmouth last Sunday. It was a very interesting education.

Margaret Mitchell returned home after a week with her sister in Sebago. She was fortunate to find a home beauty parlor enroute so is sporting a trim.

Nancy Blais has returned home from the hospital and will be recuperating for several weeks before returning to work.

The bear have left calling cards along the road but the dog has barked them away from our apple trees so far. There are a lot of chokecherries and apple trees in the old farms so they can go to bed fat and filled without raiding our trees but there's no guarantee.

The town office is sporting a new set of steps. At the site there is a ramp for the disabled. It looks real nice from the road.

Mike Bergeron of Farmington visited in town Friday morning.

One of my first thoughts following the death of an acquaintance is, "I wonder where he (she) is now." If there is no higher power, presumably we came from dust and return there but it's far-fetched idea that this could simply happen. If the Bible is true, then there's an eternity that everyone goes to—either to an awful place of torture or a beautiful place of splendor. Again according to scripture, a ticket to the latter is simply acquired by free and one to the former is by decision—or no decision. It's worth contemplating.

By AMY HANSCOM

Louise Tetley, Thelma Lowrey, Betsy Clark, Karlene Bachelder, Gretchen Wright, and Olive Anderson were in Rumford bowling Aug. 25. Gilberto Seely was a guest. It was a very close game, Louise Tetley and Betsy Clark tied for the triple string, and Karlene Bachelder just one point behind. For the single string, Thelma Lowrey, Betsy Clark and Gretchen Wright tied, with Karlene close behind. After bowling, the ladies had lunch and went shopping.

Mr. and Mrs. Owen Wright spent the week of Aug. 16-22 in Deer Isle. Mrs. Susan Bowie, Jennifer and Christopher, were there for three days.

The title of Pastor Hanscom's message Sunday morning, Aug. 23, was "Are You Concerned?" with scripture readings from Exodus 17:1-7, and St. Matthew 16:13-20.

Sincere sympathy to the families of Rae Bartholomew and Phyllis Sweetser.

Sylvia Gray will be auctioneer for Newry Ladies Circle meeting at Olive Anderson's, Tuesday, Sept. 8, at 7:30 p.m. Ladies, bring an article to be auctioned. New members welcome.

FORUM BEING SPONSORED BY HEALTH CENTER

A Family Forum will be held at the Bethel Area Health Center in September. The forum is a course for adult friends and family members of chemically dependent people. It is composed of four two-hour sessions and facilitated by a registered substance abuse counselor. The focus will be on the concept of co-dependency—the effects of chemical addiction on family members. Participants will become better educated about chemical dependency itself. They will also begin to understand how their co-dependency has developed and what they can do to free it of its limitations. The forum is open to adults in the community. For more information call Becky Hardy at the health center on Mondays and Tuesdays, 824-2193, or at her office in Rumford on Thursdays and Fridays, 364-7981.

SAD #44 adult education offering high school diploma programs

Adult high school diploma programs are available in SAD #44 again this fall, according to Adult and Community Education Director Cathy Newell. Many Maine adults lack a high school diploma and increasingly a diploma or GED is required for employment or advancement on the job. Last year, 25 adults earned diplomas or GEDs in SAD #44 and Mrs. Newell and her staff expect another active year in 1987-88. The summer session of the Adult Learning Center saw the entry into adult education of several new students who plan to enroll in classes this fall.

Adult high school credit courses will be offered this fall in English, civics, and refresher math, with partial credit available for many of the shorter adult education courses such as computers, accounting, or typing. The course flyer will be mailed to SAD #44 and surrounding towns in early September listing all programs to be offered. GED testing and preparation is available during the day and evenings in Adult Learning Centers in Bethel and Bryant Pond. An additional session in Andover will be scheduled if there is interest.

Adults intending to enroll in fall diploma classes must meet with Adult Guidance Counselor Merrill Bittner before the start of classes on Sept. 21. Call 824-2780 for an appointment.

Classes at Stage One studio of dance to begin September 16

Stage One Studio of Dance, under the direction of Barbara D. Gasser, is in the final days of preparation for the coming season. Classes are being put together and the studio equipment is being installed.

Ms. Gasser says it is not too late to register for classes which are scheduled to begin Sept. 16. The following classes will be offered: Basic Dance—which is an introduction to dance fundamentals, exercises to strengthen the body and improve coordination, and to develop a sense of rhythm and musical awareness. Ballet—starts with a classical barre to warm up and strengthen muscles and teach proper body alignment. Center work, adagio, develops grace, line and balance. Allegro, jumps and other fast lively movements develop coordination, speed, strength and endurance. Tap—uses tap shoes to spell out rhythm. Includes barre and center work to teach students to make tap sounds clear and musical. Basics of jazz, clog, soft shoe, and time steps are taught in this class. Jazz—uses and expands upon basics of ballet and tap. Center work involves isolations, jazz walks, exercises to challenge the mind and body. Adult classes are available in Dancersize (exercise and jazz), Musical Comedy (tap and jazz), and Basic Ballroom.

All of the above forms of dance are taught as separate classes to ensure that

BAKE/RUMMAGE SALE ON SEPT. 19 TO FEATURE CHILDREN'S WINTER CLOTHING

With winter on its way, members of the Bethel United Methodist Church are concerned that some families may find it difficult to outfit their children with warm clothing. In order to help supply this need they are planning a sale, where it is hoped that will be many articles available at very reasonable prices. You can help. If you good winter jackets, pants, boots, snowsuits, sweaters, etc., your children have outgrown, why not donate them for the Sept. 19 bake and rummage sale to be held from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the church. Items may be left anytime at Miller's Inn or one may call 824-2796 for pick up.

the student acquires the full benefit of each form.

Ms. Gasser has been invited to, and will also be teaching this season at The Studio of Dance Education in Exeter, N.H., which is starting its sixth successful year in that community.

Ms. Gasser is looking forward to her first of many seasons here in Bethel. Let's dance!

DORIS LORD REMEMBERED

I was saddened but not surprised with the news that my sixth grade teacher Doris Lord had died. I visited her in the nursing home this summer and was stunned by her condition. Gone was the vibrant, lively, highly animated woman I had known all my life. Here before me was a frail, listless human being devoid of the special "sparkle" I had always associated with her. Illness had obviously taken its toll and she told me that her time on earth was not long. Thankfully, mercy intervened and cut short her "seize" in a nursing home, a place that must have been difficult for her to face. She had simply come home to Maine to die.

Doris was a great teacher, always interesting and her classes were often exciting. I did extremely well in her class and look upon my sixth grade year as one of my happiest.

Later when I became professionally associated with the Bethel Historical Society, I recall Doris as one of our most enthusiastic members. She donated a large number of items to the society which today are among our special "treasures." From Florida, she also wrote notes indicating how proud she was of the society's progress and how much she enjoyed the Courier. She was also an avid reader of the society news in the Citizen and often commented on something she read there. She never lost interest in Bethel and Bethel people and maintained a large correspondence.

FREE BLOOD PRESSURE SCREENING SEPT. 8 AT SENIOR CITIZEN MEAL SITE

The Bethel Area Health Center is pleased to offer a free high blood pressure screening at the Senior Citizens meal site at the Bethel United Methodist Church on Tuesday, Sept. 8, from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Muriel Whitney RNC will be available to take blood pressures and answer general questions concerning blood pressure.

The valuable service will be offered periodically and is available upon request if associated with area businesses. Please call Muriel Whitney at 824-2193 for more information.

Doris was an integral part of Lord's Orchestra which was a Bethel institution for years. I also recall her telling in class how she once played the piano to accompany silent films in Odeon Hall. It is clear music was a central influence in her life and she enjoyed sharing that interest with many others.

I will never forget Doris as a teacher, as a musician and as a person who was just plain fun.

WALKING WITH JESUS CHRIST
Well, what are you waiting for? Let's go fishing—the weather is right—the moon hangs high—and there's a fish out there.
All Christians should go fishing—good exercise—and for us there is no closed season. We may fish anytime—day or night—so long as it is in the "Son shine Jesus said." Follow me.

Okay—now that your Bible is open—consider the song—"At the table set for me"—yes, it's the wedding day—the marriage supper of the Lamb. Revelation 19. Holy food for the Holy—for the sons of God. "Welcome my children—"We'll dine" as the Crowns are handed out. The scene shall be in heaven. The promises of rewards at the judgment seat of God. Revelation 20:11-15.

The parable of the talents—Matthew 25:14-30—as spoken by Jesus—"For the kingdom of heaven is like a man traveling into a far country, who called his own servants, and delivered unto them his goods. And unto one he gave five talents, to another two, and to another one, to every man according to his ability." And he went away. When he returned, two of the men had gained increases, and to them he said, "Well done, thou good and faithful servant—"center thou into the joy of the Lord." To the third man who had not gained—he said, "Thou wicked and slothful servant—you knew I put my talent to work—but, did not." He said, "Cast this unprofitable servant into outer darkness; there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth."

Continuing on the reading of verses 14-30 in Matthew 25—thinking hard—you will see judgment of individual Gentiles upon Christ's return—(Collected) 1 Corinthians 3:12-15 "every man's work shall be revealed"—"Stopped of his glory for laziness"—"humiliated for ineffectiveness and of believers' crowns."

Christian Service Rewards: James 1:12—"he shall receive the crown of life." 1 Peter 5:4—"incorruptible crown." Daniel 12:3—"and, they that turn many to righteousness (shall shine) as the stars forever and forever."

Ephesians 2:9—"For we are God's workmanship, created in Christ Jesus to do good works, which God prepared in advance for us to do." Ephesians 4—"where it be—'Works of service'—at each part does its work." Romans 12:1—"I beseech you therefore, present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God—which is your reasonable service."

If we are not Christ centered—we are a part of this dismal World that leaves Christ out. As Jesus said—"I am in the world but not of it."

The world as you can see and hear, will tolerate anything but the message of Jesus Christ. There should be a contrast between the World and us!

A Christian is one born of God—re-generated—made new through the shed blood of Jesus Christ—and, has a gift to be used for the glory of God. It is not of social activities such as cookouts—church suppers—food festivals, plant sales nor clothes racks.

So, let's go fishing—spread the Word—let's not be ashamed of the Gospel, as Paul said. Plant the seed—it's the harvest time—and, it's later than you think!
Got any "unfished" business?
*Suggest reading: John 1:19-1:19=Heb. 3:12-13=12:15. Makes one wonder.
